

URBAN OUTREACH MINISTRY

The Five Pillars of a Healthy Community

1. A Culture of Place & Relationship

Every healthy neighborhood has a sense of place and builds strong relationships among the people who live there. The opportunities for events and gatherings to help build relationships amongst neighbors in Brookside are limitless.

2. Jesus-Centered Churches

We believe that Jesus-centered churches are essential for a healthy community because only the gospel has the power to change lives.

3. Opportunities for Economic Development

Strong communities need economic development that focuses on providing opportunities to experience the dignity and calling of work in an atmosphere of discipleship and intentional relationships.

4. Strong Educational Structures

When strong educational structures are in place, children learn and grow in healthy school environments and parents are also able to engage in the educational process.

5. Safe & Affordable Housing

Safe and affordable housing is a key piece to healthy communities because it gives people a sense of security and belonging.
